

Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis

Wow! What a Spring Semester we had!

If you missed the Spring Semester 22 you missed a lot of learning! The students worked very hard during the semester, and we have the book graduates to prove it. We also had several High School graduates among the students and tutors. Look for both groups listed later in this newsletter. Every student who attended learned a lot even if they did not complete a book. That is the beauty of this program, all the students are winners. The students don't need a test every week to prove they are learning. The tutors know, the supervisors know, and the parents know. Everyone knows because it is written on each student's face. That feeling of success, of "I did it." The self-esteem that comes with the success one feels when they can read the sentence, or the page, or can spell a new word that they could not spell or read before. That makes the students glow with pride.

Thoughts From the Prez

Summer Anyone?

"Summertime and the living is easy. The fish are jumping, and the cotton is high."

Well, the song has it figured out. But the reality is a lot different in the real world. Summertime is not easy; it has a lot of busy things to be done. The Dyslexia foundation is no exception. We are always planning something to help our children succeed. Our Summer Program is the best of our 3 programs in helping them succeed in school and life. First, it meets every weekday Monday

Thoughts From Our Testing Coordinator

Hi,
I just wanted to say how much I appreciate the facilities at Lord of Life Lutheran Church being made available to us for our programs. They have truly been a blessing to us.

Many of you may not know of another church that has been a blessing, as well. Two years ago, when Covid caused the shutting down of so many activities, Calvary Road Baptist Church in Millington, TN. became aware of our need to have a safe place to test students. The transition of teaching by online courses made many more parents aware that their children were struggling to read and write effectively. We had more calls than ever for testing requests through Friday, so the students don't have time to forget like from Saturday to Saturday. Second, Summer is a great learning time because the students are in our program from 8:30 am till 3:30 pm, with a lunchtime and an activity period to stretch those muscles. Third, our Summer Program is the best cost semester since our tuition is the lowest; especially if a parent, friend, or sibling can tutor. So, register today and come to summer's 4-week (20 day) semester from mid-June to mid-July. Give me, Karen Carson, a call at 901 671-7399, and I will answer all your questions. You can also come to the New Parents meeting at 7:00 pm June 14th and have your questions answered.

God moved on the heart of my pastor to make a safe place available. He designated an area of our campus to be used for testing /tutoring purposes only. That made it possible to keep a rigid control of those who entered. The men of our church renovated a dormitory building by putting up a wall to make two offices. They painted them and installed a window heating/cooling unit. There is also a restroom in the same building, so students and parents never had to leave while they were being ministered to. The church donated beautiful wall hangings to make it more inviting to nervous kids and their parents This was all done at no cost to us. They have provided the facility and utilities for us to operate there for two years now. Students from Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Missouri come here for testing. There are very few facilities that provide these services in the South.

I remember when my child was tested 34 years ago, I had to drop him off in an empty classroom in an empty school with the examiner who was a stranger to us both. That was difficult for a homeschooling mom. I am so grateful to be able to offer a comfortable place for these families that are hunting desperately for hope and answers to how best to help their children.

Claire Worthington used to say, "God loves this foundation." I believe God loves those who answer His call to love our neighbor. We who have been blessed with help ought to generously provide the same for those in need. Covid has hit our foundation hard. Enrollment and volunteers have fallen off drastically. We haven't been able to have our Annual Meeting, the one fund raiser of the year, since the pandemic started. Won't you search your heart to see if there is some way you can help? If people who have never been a part of the foundation have extended so much for these kids, how much more should we who have received a direct benefit be willing to provide?

Let's continue to keep this work going for the coming generations! God bless,

Paula Landrum,
Testing Coordinator

This is why I have stayed at the Foundation for over 40 years. I love seeing the change in the students each semester they attend as they gain more and more self-confidence and pride in themselves. When they start, they will not look you in the eye. They talk or mumble in a whisper. If you ask them a question, they look at you and shrug and won't answer. Then after a few weeks they slowly start to change. The change is so clearly apparent that everyone notices, especially the child themselves. So, please give our program a chance so you can see the self-confidence and self esteem grow in your child. Hope to see you for our Summer 22 Program on June 20, 2022.

God Bless you all,
Karen Carson, Program Director

Understanding Students with Learning Disabilities

By Richard Lavoie

I was a first-year teacher at a small, residential school for kids with Learning Disabilities in Central Massachusetts. The ink was not yet-dry on my diploma when I found myself assigned to teach the elusive Language Arts to groups of kids with significant learning problems.

Among my students was a thirteen-year-old boy named Craig. He was a bright kid but his severe dyslexia prevented him from learning to read and write effectively. He was assigned to me for forty minutes daily as a one-time tutorial. It was my job to teach him how to read, write and spell. No small task for a twenty-one year old neophyte!

At the conclusion of our class one day, I gave Craig a blank sheet of composition paper. His assignment was to write a 200 word composition about his beloved dog. Craig dutifully took the paper to his dormitory room that evening and completed the assignment. He returned the composition to me the next day. I placed it in my briefcase and took it to my apartment that night for correction.

After dinner that evening, I removed Craig's composition from my briefcase and began my correction ritual. I scrutinized Craig's writings for any and all punctuation, capitalization or grammatical errors. Every error was then highlighted with my red pencil! (I destroyed all my red pencils in 1975...and I suggest that you do the same!) By the time I was finished there were more red marks on the paper than there were blue.

I walked into class the next day and was pleasantly surprised to see Craig sitting there awaiting my arrival. This was unprecedented! Craig was generally on time for class...but never early! He rushed to me excitedly:

"Did you read my composition last night Mr. Lavoie? Did you like it? How did I do?"

"Sure, I liked it Craig." I responded. "You used some of your new vocabulary words and your margins were GREAT...but we need to talk about some of the mistakes that you made..."

With that, I removed Craig's composition from my briefcase...now he is seeing it for the first time since I had gotten my hand on it! I could see the tears of disappointment welling up in his eyes. I asked him what was wrong.

"I know that those are real mistakes on the paper, Mr. Lavoie. And I know it's your job to correct them. But last night I spent an extra half-hour just proofreading that composition. I read it and re-read it...and I thought that it was PERRFECT...and look at all the mistakes that I missed. It's so frustrating."

With that, I put my hand on his shoulder, looked into his eyes and said the dumbest thing that I have ever said to a special needs kid and I have never said it since. I said, "Craig, I know how you feel..."

He immediately bristled, pushed my hand away and glared at me. "The hell you do!" he bellowed. "Don't you dare tell me that you know how I feel because you don't have ANY IDEA how I feel..." He stormed out of my classroom...hurt, bewildered and very angry.

A great insight came to me that day. I came to realize that there is a great and significant irony in the field of education. One that we must confront and understand. Namely: Those of us who teach in the classroom everyday probably had little difficulty when we were sitting on the other side of the desk as students. Most people who teach are folks who did well in school...and enjoyed the experience of going to school. Why else would we choose an occupation that puts us into a school setting? The kid that we can least relate to is the one who needs us the most.

How to Stay Young

1. Disregard all nonessential numbers. These include age, weight and height.

2. Keep only cheerful friends. The grouches pull you down. If you really need a grouch, there are probably family members that fill that need.

3. Keep learning. Learn more about the computer, crafts, gardening, whatever. Just never let the brain idle.

4. Enjoy the simple things. Remember - when you were young, that's all you could afford. When you were in college, that's all that you could afford. When you are on retirement, that is all that you can afford!

5. Laugh often, long and loud. Laugh until you gasp for breath. Laugh so much that you can be tracked anywhere by your distinctive laughter.

6. The tears happen. Endure, grieve, and move on. The only person who is with us our entire life is ourselves.

7. Surround yourself with what you love, whether it is family, pets, keepsakes, music, plants, hobbies, whatever. Your home is your refuge.

8. Cherish your health. If it is good, preserve it. If it is unstable, improve it. If it is beyond what you can improve, get help.

9. Don't take guilt trips. Go to the mall, the next county, a foreign country, but forget the guilt trips!

10. At every opportunity, tell the people you love that you love them.

Remember: Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away.

Here are a couple of ways to help donate to the Foundation without costing you any extra money. All it takes is a few minutes of your time to setup and then remember to use them. The Foundation received over $500.00 last year from these organizations with only a few members participating. Think what could happen if each member participated...Especially with Christmas just around the corner. What better ways can you think of to help your child and the Foundation at the same time and not cost you anything. A win, win for everyone.

You shop. Amazon gives.

If you purchase anything from Amazon.com, you can help us raise money to help serve more dyslexic children and their families without spending any extra money. All you need to do is signup for Amazon Smiles and choose Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis as your cause to start shopping, and raising money. Click on or copy the link <http://smile.amazon.com/ch/23-7420143> in your web browser and it will automatically take you to the Amazon Smiles site for you to set your Amazon account up to benefit the Dyslexia Foundation.

You can shop till you drop and help the Foundation at the same time; plus the added bonus is it cost you nothing extra. Bookmark the link <http://smile.amazon.com/ch/23-7420143> and support us every time you shop. Our last check from Amazon was for $227.50. Think what it could be if each of you used <http://smile.amazon.com> each time you use Amazon to shop.

For the past few years, The Dyslexia Foundation has received a check just for some of our members using GoodSearch.com to search on the internet? This year, the check will be a little over $200.00. Just think how much we could raise if everyone started using www.GoodSearch.com on a regular basis.

GoodSearch.com is a Yahoo-powered search engine that donates half its advertising revenue, about a penny per search, to the charities its users designate. Use it just as you would Google or any search engine, get quality search results from Yahoo, and watch the donations add up!

If you shop online, GoodShop.com is a new online shopping mall which donates up to 37 percent of each purchase to the Foundation! Hundreds of great stores including Target, Gap, Best Buy, eBay, Macy's and Barnes & Noble have teamed up with GoodShop and every time you place an order, you'll be supporting the Foundation.

Just go to www.goodsearch.com and be sure to enter Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis as the charity you want to support. And, be sure to spread the word! This is a great way to support the Foundation and there is no effort involved. Just remember to always use GoodSearch.com, and designate the Foundation whenever you are searching or shopping on the internet.

Does your workplace participate in a United Way campaign? Then you can designate your pledge to the Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis through United Way's Donor Choice Program. Simply follow the instructions on your pledge card, or write our name and address. Contact your human resources department or local United Way agency for more detailed instructions about giving a gift to the Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis through a United Way campaign. What a great way to help your company reach its 100% participation goal, make sure you know where and who is benefiting from your donation and helping the Foundation all at the same time. It is a win, win, win deal for everyone.

A big salute goes out to the students and staff who did not miss any Saturdays during the entire Spring 2022 semester! Thanks for your dedication to the Foundation.

"Nothing in this world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not, nothing is more common than unsuccessful people with talent. Genius will not, unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not, the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and Determination alone are omnipotent. Paul Harvey Writes:

We tried so hard to make things better for our kids that we made them worse. For my grandchildren, I'd like better. I'd really like for them to know about hand me down clothes and homemade ice cream and leftover meat loaf sandwiches. I really would.

I hope you learn humility by being humiliated, and that you learn honesty by being cheated.

I hope you learn to make your own bed and mow the lawn and wash the car.

And I really hope nobody gives you a brand-new car when you are sixteen.

It will be good if at least one time you can see puppies born and your old dog put to sleep.

I hope you get a black eye fighting for something you believe in.

I hope you have to share a bedroom with your younger brother/sister. And it's all right if you have to draw a line down the middle of the room, but when he wants to crawl under the covers with you because he's scared, I hope you let him.

When you want to see a movie and your little brother/sister wants to tag along, I hope you'll let him/her.

I hope you have to walk uphill to school with your friends and that you live in a town where you can do it safely.

On rainy days when you have to catch a ride, I hope you don't ask your driver to drop you two blocks away so you won't be seen riding with someone as uncool as your Mom.

If you want a slingshot, I hope your Dad teaches you how to make one instead of buying one.

I hope you learn to dig in the dirt and read books.

When you learn to use computers, I hope you also learn to add and subtract in your head.

I hope you get teased by your friends when you have your first crush on a boy/girl, and when you talk back to your mother that you learn what ivory soap tastes like.

May you skin your knee climbing a mountain, burn your hand on a stove and stick your tongue on a frozen flagpole.

I don't care if you try a beer once, but I hope you don't like it. And, if a friend offers you dope or a joint, I hope you realize he is not your friend.

I sure hope you make time to sit on a porch with your Grandma/Grandpa and go fishing with your Uncle.

May you feel sorrow at a funeral and joy during the holidays.

I hope your mother punishes you when you throw a baseball through your neighbor's window and that she hugs you and kisses you at Hanukah/Christmas time when you give her a plaster mold of your hand.

These things I wish for you - tough times and disappointment, hard work and happiness. To me, it's the only way to appreciate life.

Written with a pen. Sealed with a kiss. I'm here for you. And if I die before you do, I'll go to heaven and wait for you.

Remember, we secure our friends, not by accepting favors, but by doing them.
