Dyslexia Foundation Testing Program

The Dyslexia Foundation of Memphis provides a screening test for dyslexia. This is actually a battery of tests to determine if a student's academic difficulties stem from dyslexia. This is not a full-scale psychological evaluation. However, it is detailed enough to identify a student's proficiency in dealing with language, both oral and written. The battery includes test in the areas of:

- Short term memory
- Speech irregularities
- Accuracy and fluency of reading
- Reading comprehension
- Visual perception and processing
- Auditory perception and processing
- Eye / hand co-ordination

The cost of the evaluation is $150.00 which includes:

- Testing by a trained examiner
- Interpretation of test results
- Report of test scores & recommendations for helping student improve scholastically
